2006
ANNUAL REPORT

CITY OF PORT ORCHARD
POLICE DEPARTMENT

ALAN L. TOWNSEND, CHIEF OF POLICE

Mayor Abel, City Council Members, Community Members:

I am pleased to present to you the 2006 Port Orchard Police Department Annual Report.

I'm afraid the news isn't all good. While our property crimes dropped by 13%, our violent crimes increased by 16%. This is very troubling and unfortunately this matches what we are seeing across the United States. We remain in the #6 spot for violent crime per capita in the state of Washington. Obviously this is not the kind of statistic that a community would pride itself on.

The good news is that there are practical ways to reduce crime in our community. While increased police patrols and police presence are sure ways, we must also consider alternatives due to limited budgets that we continue to stretch to the maximum levels. As such we can't turn to the police alone. There must be a commitment by the community to help prevent crime and intervene in problems before they become criminal. The police department prides itself on our existing neighborhood watch groups and interaction with the community in the area of crime prevention and problem oriented policing. But we must continue to ask more of the community and of our neighborhoods to come together and take an interest in crime reduction in their own back yards.

We have begun to see a resurgence in gang related activity. We have been a leader in forming a working group that will establish partnerships with entities such as the school district, the prosecutors office, juvenile court, probation, and other groups to help tackle this problem head on. It is our intent to be proactive in our approach, rather than to wait and end up in a reactive situation. Again, the community can make a difference. Such things as reporting of graffiti to police and knowing what to look for in your own children to help prevent gang activity are imperative in our fight.

When crime is reported to the Port Orchard Police Department we are much more likely to solve the crime than the national averages for law enforcement agencies. In addition our random audit of police contacts shows that citizens are extremely satisfied with the service they receive. Likewise, our response times to calls for police service continue to be some of the best in the county.

In 2007, we will continue to develop innovative ways to police. One of the programs currently under way is the crime mapping we are using as part of our crime analysis program. I am hopeful that we will soon be able to put that information out monthly on our website so that all citizens can make use of this critical data.

On behalf of the women and men of your police department, we look forward to a successful 2007 and we will continue to provide quality police service to the residents and visitors of Port Orchard.

Sincerely,

Alan L. Townsend
